Promoting Justice / Protecting Rights

The Committee on the Administration of Justice (CAJ) was established in 1981 and is an independent non-governmental organisation affiliated to the International Federation of Human Rights. CAJ takes no position on the constitutional status of Northern Ireland and is firmly opposed to the use of violence for political ends. Its membership is drawn from across the community.

The Committee seeks to ensure the highest standards in the administration of justice in Northern Ireland by ensuring that the government complies with its responsibilities in international human rights law. The CAJ works closely with other domestic and international human rights groups such as Amnesty International, Human Rights First (formerly the Lawyers Committee for Human Rights) and Human Rights Watch and makes regular submissions to a number of United Nations and European bodies established to protect human rights.

CAJ's activities include - publishing reports, conducting research, holding conferences, campaigning locally and internationally, individual casework and providing legal advice. Its areas of work are extensive and include policing, emergency laws and the criminal justice system, equality and advocacy for a Bill of Rights.

CAJ however would not be in a position to do any of this work, without the financial help of its funders, individual donors and charitable trusts (since CAJ does not take government funding). We would like to take this opportunity to thank Atlantic Philanthropies, Barrow Cadbury Trust, Hilda Mullen Foundation, Joseph Rowntree Charitable Trust, Oak Foundation and UNISON.

The organisation has been awarded several international human rights prizes, including the Reebok Human Rights Award and the Council of Europe Human Rights Prize.

Dear Mr Hutchinson

PUBLIC CONSULTATION – LARNE MASTERPLAN

The Committee on the Administration of Justice (CAJ) was established in 1981 and is an independent non-governmental organisation affiliated to the International Federation of Human Rights. CAJ works on a broad range of human rights issues and its membership is drawn from across the community. Its activities include - publishing reports, conducting research, holding conferences, monitoring, campaigning locally and internationally, individual casework and providing legal advice.

CAJ's areas of work are extensive and include policing, emergency laws, criminal justice, equality and the protection of rights. The organisation has been awarded several international human rights prizes, including the Reebok Human Rights Award and the Council of Europe Human Rights Prize. Together with UNISON, we co-convene the Equality Coalition.

For some time CAJ has been involved in the process of furthering the mainstreaming of equality in Northern Ireland and we are keen to forward our views on as many equality related documents as possible. This is particularly the case where the documents concerned have important implications for the delivery of greater equality.

CAJ believes that this is one such document, and we are keen to contribute to any discussions on how the area concerned can most effectively be subject to regeneration. CAJ is of the view that regeneration, inward investment, and public procurement should all be linked to provide maximum benefit both in social and economic terms.

The Larne Masterplan represents an unprecedented opportunity to have a significant, positive impact on the promotion of equality across all the Section 75 dimensions. For example, the project could create employment, apprenticeships and on-site training to assist in skills development for those in most need. It is therefore not clear to CAJ why an Equality Impact Assessment ('EQIA') has not taken place prior to the issuing of the consultation document.

CAJ would like confirmation that the Department for Social Development will conduct an EQIA for the Larne Masterplan. The key issue for the EQIA would be ensuring that this project's potential to promote equality of opportunity is realised. We therefore also seek confirmation that an EQIA would inform DSD's decision making in relation to this project, despite taking place after the general public consultation.

We look forward to hearing form you.

Yours sincerely

Debbie Kohner
